John W. Gates a Heavy Loser on the Day's Proceedings, Peter Pan Burning Up 820,000 of His Money-Fifteen Starters Named for To-morrow's Brooklyn.

The victory of Frank Gill in the Withers Stakes yesterday was a distinct form reversal. The colt had been sent to the post in two previous races, being left once and running far back in the ruck in the handicap won by Suffrage on Thursday. But these performances did not keep Owner Jack McGinnis from servatively estimated in the ring after the numbers went up that McGinnis bet enough to win $25,000 in wagers, possibly more, and as the race was worth $7,775 to the winner the owner was enabled to take a pleasant walk on Easy street.

The money lost on Peter Pan was roughly estimated at $250,000. John W. Gates, who had a disastrous day, dropped $20,000 on the Commando colt alone. John A. Drake, Dave Johnson, A. B. Hudson, Mattie Corbett, Tim Sullivan, Frank Farrell and the combined clubhouse plunged on Peter Pan for the limit. Saracinesca was also heavily backed for the place at even money, so that the ring was loaded down with winnings as a result. The Withers was run for the first time at Jerome Park in 1874, and was continued there until 1889, inclusive. In 1895 the race was run for the first time over the "Withers mile" at Morris Park, the winners since that time being Lucanfa, Handspring, Octagon, The Huguence, Jean Bereaud, Kilmarnock, The Parader, Compute, Short Hose, Delhi, Blandy and Ac-

Frank Gill is the only colt in this country sired by Collar, an English stallion. He ran as a two-year-old the early part of last season in the colors of W. H. Brown, but was sold at auction together with Salvidere and other good ones that Bob Tucker let go. Gill ran some fine races in McGinnis's name last fall, but because of the poor form shown by him before yesterday's race he was passed up by the public and the shrewd speculators.

If Mr. Belmont's Half Sovereign, by Hastings-Souveraine, had won the Fashion Stakes it would have required a couple of men to count the winnings of Dave Gideon, whose money helped to back the filly from 10 down to 8. But Ella O'Neill just spoiled the coup. The latter was the logical choice on form, but she receded from 2 to 4, although she was heavily backed for the place by the sensible players who did not care to take chances with Megg's Hill. James Rowe, Mr. Keene's capable trainer, made no secret of the belief that Megg's Hill would win in a gallop. She had outworked the speedy Sepoy, it was said, and that was all the wise men needed in the way of information. Gates had a big commiss on Megg's Hill, and so did nearly all the heavy speculators, but the books kept all the money. Gold Finn, who was an added starter and ran third, is a filly by Gold Heels-Wings, owned by W. Clyde. Barney Schreiber's

Lotus Brandt was also added, but got nothing. A raft of place and show wagers was dropped on the Chelsea Stable's entry, Laughing Eyes and Glorious Betsy. The Fashion was worth $3,105 to the winner. It was run for the first time in 1897, the winners being L'Alouette. High Degree, Motley, Anecdote, Amiciba. Mamari, Ishlana, Incantation, Tiptoe and Court Dress.

The betting on the Meadow Brook Steeple-chase was confined to four horses. Essex was the paddock tip and was heavily backed at 7 to 5, Gates and his friends leading the play. The public, however, showed a preference for Ray's mount, Garrett, and played him steadily at 2. Leonalla, who threw her rider at the very outset, was backed from 10 down to 5, while Guardian was well supported to show. Mr. Kerr, who rode Essex, a halfbreed, by Judge Morrow, wore spectacles, as is his custom—a dangerous practice in case of a fall. Previous winners of the Meadow Brook were Last Cord, Somerset, Tchula, Coligny, Patagonian and Game Cock.

Max Blumenthal placed the stable com-mission, a big one, on M. H. Tichenor's Eddie Ware in the first race, but the colt evidently did not care for the cuppy track. Gates lost another solid wager on Welbourne, the public cleaned up with Aletheno who was taken both ways. The ring broke better than even to this event.
Gates burned up some more of his money on Boots Durnell's Joe Nealon, a colt by Kismet-Bonita R., named for the first baseman of the Pittsburgs, who was played from 20 down to 12 in the second event. This race was another great clean up for the books: as there were only a few pikers' bets of Hal, the 50 to 1 winner, while thousands were lost on Banyah, Senator Beckham, Bennie Williams and Ella Louise, who was left at the post. Madden cut Dead Gone loose and, it is said, backed him across the boards. With a stronger rider in the saddle Dead Gone might have won. Onda, who ran second at long odds, is a filly by Pessara-Grace Bryan.

The only setback the layers had was in the last race, when Philander won. Gates, Drake, Johnson and all the plungers, in fact, backed Philander for as much as they could get on. Trainer Rowe said the son of Ben Brush would win by a hundred yards, but as it turned out Philander might have succumbed to Flimnap if the distance had been farther. The other day Gideon, Lewisohn and others bet their lives on Flimnap in a maiden race, but the colt was badly beaten. In yesterday's affair these men did not bet a penny on the Sir Dixon colt, against whom there was plenty of 6 to 1 a place. The books had a couple of anchors to windward in McGinnis's Masaniello, 11 to 5, and Gilpin, to 1, both of whom carried many heavy place wagers.

Fifteen horses have been named to start in the Brooklyn Handicap at Gravesend to-morrow. They are as follows: Accountant, 126; Go Between, 120; Dandelion, 118; Tokalon, 116; Nealon, 114; Flip Flap, 112; Blandy, 111; Oxford, 110; Buttling, 107; Salvidere, 107; Beacon Light, 100; Arcite, 97; Sewell, 97; Superman, 95: Beauclere, 94. Looking over this list on the way home from the track last night the experts figured that the race might narrow down to a struggle among Go Between, Dandelion, Nealon, Tokalon and Buttling. All of these horses are fit and ready, but if the three-year-olds, Salvidere, Superman, Sewell and Arcite, run up to expectations they may make it an interesting

If is probable that Dandelion and Go Between will be the public choices in the speculation. Both have won impressive victories of late and will receive much financial support. Salvidere, who was the champion twoyear-old last season, has not been to the post yet. If he goes, he may be coupled with Dandelion, as Madden trains both, who are owned respectively by T. Hitchcock, Jr., and F. R. Hitchcock. Jack McGinnis has been telling his friends that Buttling with only 107 pounds will do the trick to a certainty. while Mr. Keene's Superman with 95 pounds on his back looks formidable in view of his impressive victory at Belmont Park the other day, when he broke the track record for a mile and a sixteenth with 112 pounds. contant will start, particularly if the track s muddy, but strange to say, the book sharps do not regard him seriously. For the first time this season society crowded the clubbouse and the lawn yesierday. The paddock was overrun with pretty women who inspected the thoroughbreds and enjoyed the outing immensely. Under the beautiful shade trees were such notables as Clarence H. Mackay, James R. Keene, Harry Payne Whitney, August Belmont, John W. Gates, John A. Drske, Sidney Paget, E. R. Thomas, Senator McCarren, H. K. Knapp, T. Hitch-cock, Jr., F. R. Hitchcook, Paul J. Rainey, Roy A. Rainey, M. H. Tichenor, R. T. Wilson, Jr., H. B. Duryea, Andrew Miller, Blair Painter, F. C. Bishop, James B. Brady, Dion K. Kerr, H. S. Page, Joseph E. Widener, P. J. Dwyer and many others. More than 200 automobiles were lined up behind the clubhouse during the afternoon. There was a gala time at the Turf and Field Club near by. The crowd at the track was the biggest turnout of the season to date.

Miller and Notter each rode two winners.

INVADER BEATEN.

Silver Gre Takes Trotting Crack Into Cam on the Speedway. The sunny weather drew many sport loving persons to the Harlem River Speedway yesterday afternoon and they were well repaid for their trouble. The defeat of the favorite Invader, 200%, by the gray trotter Silver Ore, 2:16, was the cause of much comment, as this is the second time Invader has been beaten by the speedy gray. Claus Bohling scored a popular victory with his team of bay trotters A. J. D., 2:09¾, and the old champion Kingmond, 2:09, over the last year's champions Gov. Holt and Deputiser, 2:17, to

Toward the end of the sport Norris, 2:09, a big bay trotter, caused considerable excitement by spilling his driver. Andrew Phillips, and dashing madly down the crowded drive. After a hard run of a quarter of a mile Mounted Policeman Frank J. Lewis made a very pretty stop of the horse.

BEHR AND WRIGHT BEATEN. Hackett and Alexander Defeat Them Three

Sets to One in Practice Match. Persons interested in the fortunes of American Davis cup players went to the Ardsley Club yesterday to see Beals C. Wright and Karl H. Behr, the two men thus far selected for the team, play against Frederick B. Alex-ander and Harold H. Hackett, the Eastern ander and Harold H. Hackett, the Eastern doubles champions. It was the first match for real practice that the Davis cup men have had in this locality. For one thing they were playing on the finest turf courts in this country. They are considered better than those at Newport by a great deal. Willie Tucker, the old golf professional at the Ardsley Club, has the tennis courts like putting greens. There is not an imperfection on them.

For that reason the games played yesterday helped the players a great deal. The Davis cup men were defeated, as was not unexpected. They have not been playing doubles together for years, as have Hackett and Alexander. In fact, they have been together only a few days. They made a good showing against the Eastern champions in the second set only, when they carried the score to eight all and then won the two succeeding games. The final score was three sets to one in favor of the Alexander-Hackett combination. The summary:

Harold H. Hackett and Frederick B. Alexander defeated Beals C. Wright and Kari H. Behr, 6-2, 8-10, 6-3, 6-2.

Club by defeating William B. Cragin, Jr., in the final round of the tournament on the club courts yesterday. Kelley played all through the tournament and yesterday met two of the Cragins. In the semi-final round he had to face the veteran Calhoun Cragin, who gave the younger player a fairly hard match. Immediately that was finished Kelley said that he was willing to go on with the final.

After a rest of about fifteen minutes he took on Will Cragin and defeated him rather handily. The fact is that Cragin got only three games in as many sets. Kelley showed no signs of weaknose except for a brief space in the third set. There was one game which went to deuce and back again several times before he could win it out, but thereafter he was not troubled. The scores:

West Side T. C. Men's Singles—Semi-final round— Was not troubled. The scottering and a west side T. C. Men's Singles—Semi-final round—William B. Cragin, Jr. defeated Charles M. Bull, Jr., 6-4, 6-4; Carleton C. Kelley defeated Calhout Cragin, 10-6, 6-2.

Navy Athletes Wind Up With Victory Over Swarthmore.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 18.—The Navy finished its field and track season here this afternoon by winning in a dual meet with Swarth-more, the score being 57 points to 39. The more, the score being 57 points to 39. The events were splendidly contested, and although the Navy won, its athletes lowered only one Academy record, while their opponents' performances were ahead of the Navy record in four events. The half mile run Midshipman Emmet did in 2 minutes 22-5 seconds, the former figure being 2 minutes 3½ seconds. In the mile run, 220 hurdles, shot put and hammer throw the visitors did better than the Navy record, Kreuger winning both of the weight events. Carey, Navy, ran the 22 yard dash in 22 seconds, equalling his record, and also won the 100 in 10 seconds, a fifth of a second slower than his own record.

BEATS PETER PAN, BADLY RID-DEN, BY A NECK.

Thousands Lost on James B. Keene's Commande Celt in This Event, Also en Megg's Hill in the Fashion, Won by Ella O'Neill-Belmont Scores With Hal.

Thirty-five thousand persons saw James R. Keene's Peter Pan, son of Commando, beaten a neck by J. L. McGinnis's Frank Gill, by Collar, in the classic Withers Stakes, one mile, at Bel-mont Park yesterday. The defeat of Peter Pan was one of a series of upsets, and was chiefly due to an incompetent bit of horseman-ship on the part of Willie Dugan. Thousands of dollars were wagered on the Commando colt, who went to the post a hot favorite at 9 to 10. The plungers backed him to a man, while the crowd in general would have nothing else in the race. There was as much as 20 to 1 about Frank Gill at one period of the speculation, but his owner bet enough on himito clean up about $25,000, while other shrewd insiders helped to back him down to 15 to 1 at the last

Dugan took Peter Pan to the front as soon as the barrier went up. He did not restrain the son of Commando, but practically let him run his head off. At the half mile post Mr. Keene's colt had a lead of four lengths, followed by the Newcastle Stable's Saracinesca. 4 to 1, George S. Davis, an added starter, and Frank Gill, with the others trailing hopelessly in the rear. Instead of taking his mount up then to allow him to have a breathing spell, Dugan kept right on hustling the colt ahead as top speed.

As he turned into the homestretch Peter Pan still had a strong lead and looked all over a winner. But at the seven-eighths pole he began to grow weary. Dugan looked back then and saw Frank Gill, perfectly ridden by Notter, coming like a whirlwind. In an instant Dugan began to fumble for his whip and lost control of the colt's head. Then he pulled himself together and put up a wear looking finish. Peter Pan struggled on under his own courage, but he had nothing left when Frank Gill challenged, and in a sensational finish the latter won the race by a neck in 1:40. Saracinesca, fagged out, was third, five lengths away. This tumble for the talent followed one disheartening when Mr. Keene's filly, Megg's Hill, by Ben Brush-Runaway Girl, a tremendously backed favorite at 11 to 10, failed to finish in the money in the Fashion Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, four and a half furlongs straightaway. Megg's Hill, on the strength of some fast trials, was believed to have the race at her but Miller had some trouble with her at the post, and when it came to racing she did not get away any too well, at the mercy, but Miller had some trouble with her at the post, and when it came to racing she did not get away any too well, at the same time showing much greenness. She was a contender at that, but did not begin to run up to her work. Fred Burlew's seasoned filly, Ella O'Neill, who receded to 6 to 1, made all the pace in this event, but it took a fierce drive on the part of Notter to get her home a winner by a neck, with August Belmont's Half Sovereign, backed down to 8, in the place. Goldfinn, 10 to 1, an added starter, was two lengths away, beating the Keene filly a half a length. The race was run in 0.54.

The Meadow Brook Hunters' Steeplechase, at about two miles and a half, was a two horse affair. T. Hitchcock, Jr.'s Garrett, 2 to 1, was superbly ridden by Ray, the professional, and won easily by half a dozen lengths from Essex, 7 to 5 favorite, also well handled by his owner. Mr. Dion Kerr of Washington. Courtland H. Smith's Navajo, 30 to 1, dropped into the third pocket, twenty-five lengths back. The race was run in 5.45.

With Suffrage, Heasilp and others scratched from the first race, a handicap at seven and a half furlongs, the smart money went on Robert Neville's Welbourne, who closed favorite at 2 to 1. But Miller, on R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Aletheuo, 13 to 5 second choice, held Welbourne at 2 to 1. But Miller, on R. T. Milson, Jr.'s Aletheuo, had to be driven to take the place from August Belmont's Smiling Tom, 12 to 1, who had a length and a half oger Bobbie Kean, 7 to 1.

Mr. Belmont's colors flashed in front when Hal, a gelding by Hastings—Donna de Oro, a 50 to 1 shot, took the second race for two-year-olds, five furlongs, straightaway. Barney Schreiber's Banyah, 2 to 1 favorite, with Miller up, set a fast pace for nearly half a mile, where he had enough. Then Hal, the runner up, shot to the front and won by a length and a half from F. A. Forsythe's Onda, 25 to 1, who closed resolutely and took the place from J.E. Madden's Dead Gone, 15 to 1, by three parts of a length. Banyah was a head out of the money coming line the three and Philander, who a cake walk. But at the end Philander, who won by two lengths, was as straight as a string, as Flimnap, 12 to 1, was closing with a fine turn of speed. Gilpin was third, eight lengths away. The time was 2:00 2-5. Five favorites were defeated and the bookmakers cleaned up another fortune. The track was cuppy. The summaries: FIRST BACH.

BOYS HIGH WINS TROPHY. Brooklyn Athletes Successful for Third

Time in Championships. The fourth annual relay championship and novice games for high schools of the Public Schools Athletic League took place yesterday at Columbia Oval, Williamsbridge, and the main feature of the meet was the acramble for the point honors. Exclusive of the relay races the school with the biggest tally cap-tured the New York A. C. trophy and after a highly exciting time of it the prize was won by Boys' High School of Brooklyn with a total of 38 points. Right on the heels of Boys' High came Erasmus Hall, another Brooklyn school, with a total of 34 points. The totals of the other schools to score were: De Witt Clinton, 19; Commerce and Morris, 15 each; Manual Training, 14; Bryant, 8; Stuyvesant, 6; Newtown, 3; Commercial, 2, and Curtis, 1. One of the conditions attached to the winged foot trophy was that a school to own it outright should win it three times, and as Boys' High has been successful in and as Boys' High has been successful in 1904 and 1906 the prize now becomes their permanent property.

The Johnson relay trophy for the unlimited weight was won by Manual Training High School in decisive fashion. In the body of the programme some new records were made. The High School of Commerce won the 100 pound relay of 440 yards in 51 seconds and it reduced the record by 1-5 of a second to the credit of the same school since last year. The Commerce School made a bold bid for the 120 pound relay championship and was only 100 commerce School made a bold but of the 120 pound relay championship and was only defeated a yard by Manual Training School. record of 5 minutes 1 1-5 seconds, made last year.

A new event in schoolboy athletic was introduced in the throwing the discus Greek style. It was its first appearance in this country and though an exceedingly difficult method the youngsters showed surprising adaptability in launching the unwieldy missile. In the delivery of the discus the throwers had to make a downward swoop with the arm and though very difficult only a couple of fouls occurred. The winner, D. Matthews, a blond haired lad from Erasmus Hall, won the gold medal with 104 feet 10% inches, though Fleig of Newtown should have done better. The discus was the junior size and weighed two and three-quarter pounds, but Matthews's mark is a new American record under the conditions.

NAVY CREW WINS BOAT RACE

FINISHES A LENGTH AND A HALF BEFORE COLUMBIA.

Rattling Two Mile Contest on the Severn in Which the Strength of the Midshipmen Tells at the End-Winners' Streke Jumps Up to 37 When Spurting.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 18 .- In a splendidly contested race of two miles rowed on the Severn this afternoon the Naval Academy crew won from Columbia by a length and a half, the winning time being 10 minutes 33 seconds and that of the losers 10 minutes 38 seconds.

The midshipmen got the jump on their opponents at the start and were slightly over length in the lead at the quarter of a mile from the beginning. From that point to half mile Columbia pulled up and almost pushed her boat even at times, but the terrific stroke of the Navy boys were them down and they ost distance slowly but steadily from that point to the finish. Conditions were excellent for the race. Though there was some wind blowing up the qourse, which affected the time, yet the sea was smooth and neither crew had any trouble on account of shipping water. The course is sheltered by the lofty Severn Hills and for most of the distance the water was ideal. In the last third of the course the water is more exposed and there was some roughness, but not enough to interfere with the clean watermanship of both crews. Special interest was taken in to-day's race because it is the first that the Navy erew has had since the announcement that t would enter the Poughkeepsie regatta. As Columbia will be one of its opponents in the big race, and has already shown its strength by defeating Harvard, to-day's contest was regarded in the nature of a test as to whether the midshipmen could be counted upon to make a good showing or not. The race showed that the Navy has a mighty crew for a two mile race, and Coach Glen-don's efforts will now be devoted to making runner, first won the mile and then carried off the two mile in 9 minutes 54 seconds. Rulon-Miller won the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds and then pushed Armstrong for first in the low hurdles but was beaten out by the Tiger captain by a few inches. In the quarter mile Atlee and Tittman fought every inch and Atlee won by a hair's breadth, with the Columbia. man twenty yards behind Tittman. The summary:
